ALQUIS [pseudonym of Samuel Edward Maberly]:

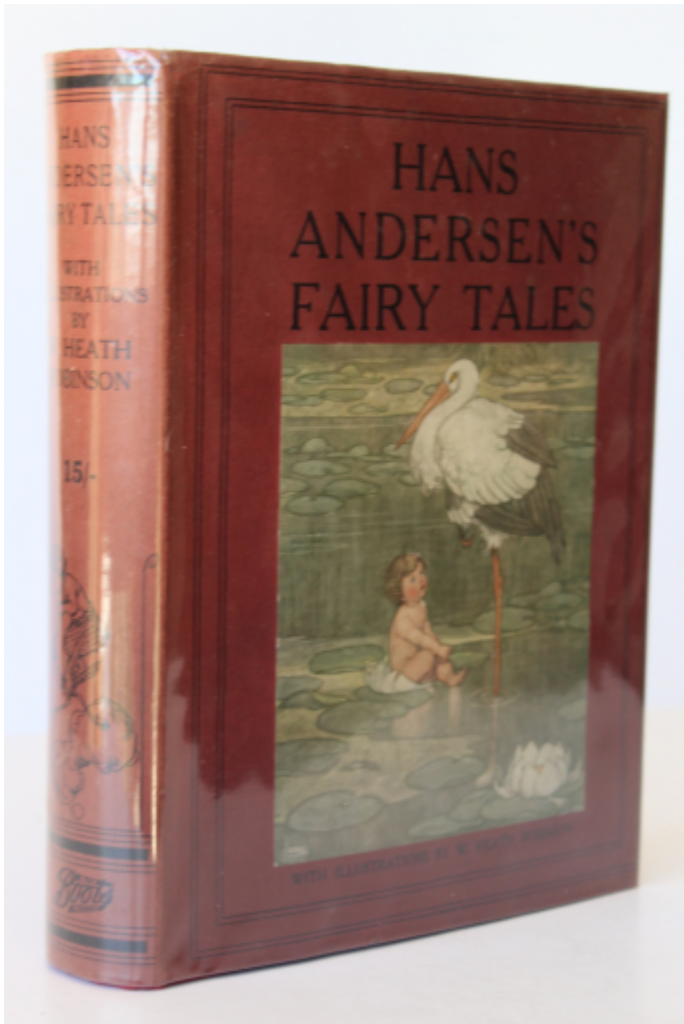

HUMPTY DUMPTY PANORAMA sketched and etched by the Alquis.

Tilt & Bogue, London, 1843. Inscribed "Rev, C.B. Wollaston from The Author" on the upper board. The folding panorama opens to over 5ft etched continuous strip panorama. Original pictorial upper board with a plain lower board, backstrip. The text is printed in Hebrew, Latin, Greek & German. Each of the 7 folding sections [9.5x 3.5 inches, 23.5 x 9 cms] have hand coloured etchings showing Humpty Dumpty sitting on the wall, falling and all the kings horses and men trying to rescue him, etc. A panoramic retelling of the popular nursery rhyme subtly pregnant with political allegory. Abbey, Life, 559.

This is a spectacular panorama. The sketches are charming and the colour subtle and appealing. All the sections are fresh and clean. There is a little bumping to the corners of the upper board. The panorama is housed in a purpose made solander box. IMAGES AVAILABLE ON REQUEST
